

2026 Wimbledon Championships

The 2026 Wimbledon Championships was the 139th edition of the Wimbledon Championships, a major tennis tournament, which took place at the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club in Wimbledon, London, England, from 29 June to 12 July 2026, with the qualifying rounds taking place between 22 to 25 June 2026.

For the first time in the Wimbledon championships history, matches had video reviews. Initially, players would only be allowed to challenge certain calls made by the chair umpires on matches at the Centre Court and No. 1 Court and on the other four show courts when they were hosting singles matches (No. 2 Court, No. 3 Court, No. 12 Court and No. 18 Court).

Gentlemen's singles

- Jannik Sinner defeated Alexander Zverev 6–7^(7–9), 7–6^(7–2), 6–3, 6–4

The Gentlemen's singles event began on 29 June with the first of seven total rounds. Thirty-two players were seeded. Of those seeded players, ten were defeated in the first round, notably No. 4 Ben Shelton, No. 11 Casper Ruud, and No. 12 Andrey Rublev. With his first-round victory, Novak Djokovic continued a 21-year-long streak of having never lost in the opening round of Wimbledon, and became the first player in the Open Era to win more than 80 opening-round matches at the majors. Jakub Menšík, Learner Tien, and Arthur Fils were the highest of the five seeded players to exit in the second round, and a further seven seeded players were defeated in the third round, notably No. 8 Daniil Medvedev, No. 17 Frances Tiafoe, and No. 19 Karen Khachanov. Alex de Minaur, Alexander Bublik, Jiří Lehečka were the highest of the four seeded players who were defeated in the Round of 16. Aged 36 years, 71 days, Jan-Lennard Struff became the oldest first-time quarterfinalist at a major in the Open Era. After his win in the fourth round, Djokovic surpassed Roger Federer's record of Wimbledon men's singles match wins, reaching 106.

In the quarterfinals, defending champion Jannik Sinner defeated Jan-Lennard Struff in straight sets. No. 7 Djokovic won his match against No. 3 Félix Auger-Aliassime in five sets, the longest quarterfinal in tournament history, at 5 hours and 15 minutes long. At 39 years, 49 days old, Djokovic was the second-oldest Wimbledon semifinalist in the Open Era, only behind Ken Rosewall in 1974 (aged 39 years, 243 days). Arthur Fery, a wildcard, defeated No. 9 Flavio Cobolli in straight sets, becoming the second wildcard to reach the Wimbledon semifinals in the Open Era, after Goran Ivanišević in 2001, and the first British male wildcard to do so at any major in the Open Era. No. 2 Alexander Zverev advanced to the semifinals after winning against No. 6 Taylor Fritz. The first semifinal was played between second seed Zverev and wildcard Fery. Zverev won the match in four sets and reached his first Wimbledon final. Zverev was the first man born in the 1990s to reach the final of all four majors, and the first German man to contest the final since Boris Becker in 1995. In the second semifinal, Sinner defeated Djokovic in straight sets.

The Wimbledon Court in Central Park

In June 2026, the All England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club organised “The Wimbledon Court in Central Park”, a four-day promotional event which was held at the Wollman Rink in Central Park, New York City, from 26 to 29 June. The event formed part of Wimbledon’s annual outreach activities in the United States, following the “The Hill in New York” event, which has been staged annually since 2022.^[127]

For the first time, the venue was transformed into a temporary grass court constructed and maintained by Wimbledon’s groundstaff. The centrepiece of the event was “The Wimbledon Court Invitational”, an exhibition doubles match featuring former professional players and tennis personalities, which was held on 26 June.^[127]

On 27 and 28 June, members of the public were given the opportunity to play on the grass court through a ballot system. The event also featured tennis clinics, interactive activities, and Wimbledon-themed hospitality, including traditional strawberries and cream, Pimm’s, and Champagne.^[127]

As part of Wimbledon’s community engagement initiatives, a tennis session was held on 29 June for participants of the Barclays Net Work programme, a youth employment and skills initiative operating in the Bronx in partnership with Good Shepherd Services. The programme supports young people aged 15–24 who are unemployed, disconnected from education, or have experience with the justice system.^[127]

The event was concluded with a public screening of the opening day’s play from the 2026 Wimbledon Championships, broadcast live on giant screens in Central Park. According to the All England Club, the initiative is intended to provide American tennis fans with an opportunity to experience elements of Wimbledon’s traditions and atmosphere outside the United Kingdom.^[127]
