Take a proactive approach to protecting corporate data

With Chrome Enterprise, your organization benefits from security features that protect billions of users on the web. Set policies, apply data loss prevention (DLP), limit password reuse, and defend against malware and phishing attacks.

Protect your enterprise

Hi there ☐ What brings you to Chrome Enterprise today?

Secure by design

Chrome is secure by default. Each web page and application runs in its own isolated environment, protecting other tabs, extensions, and your device from malicious code.

Insights and management – at no additional cost

Your organization needs a browser that can adapt along with your business needs. Start with our foundational reporting, management and security of Chrome Enterprise Core for $0. For advanced protections, like data loss prevention and context-aware access control, upgrade to Chrono.

Enhance your organization's efficiency with AI

Enable your end users to work more efficiently than ever with the latest AI features from Chrome Enterprise.

Be more productive with your browser assistant

Hi there ☐ What brings you to Chrome Enterprise today?

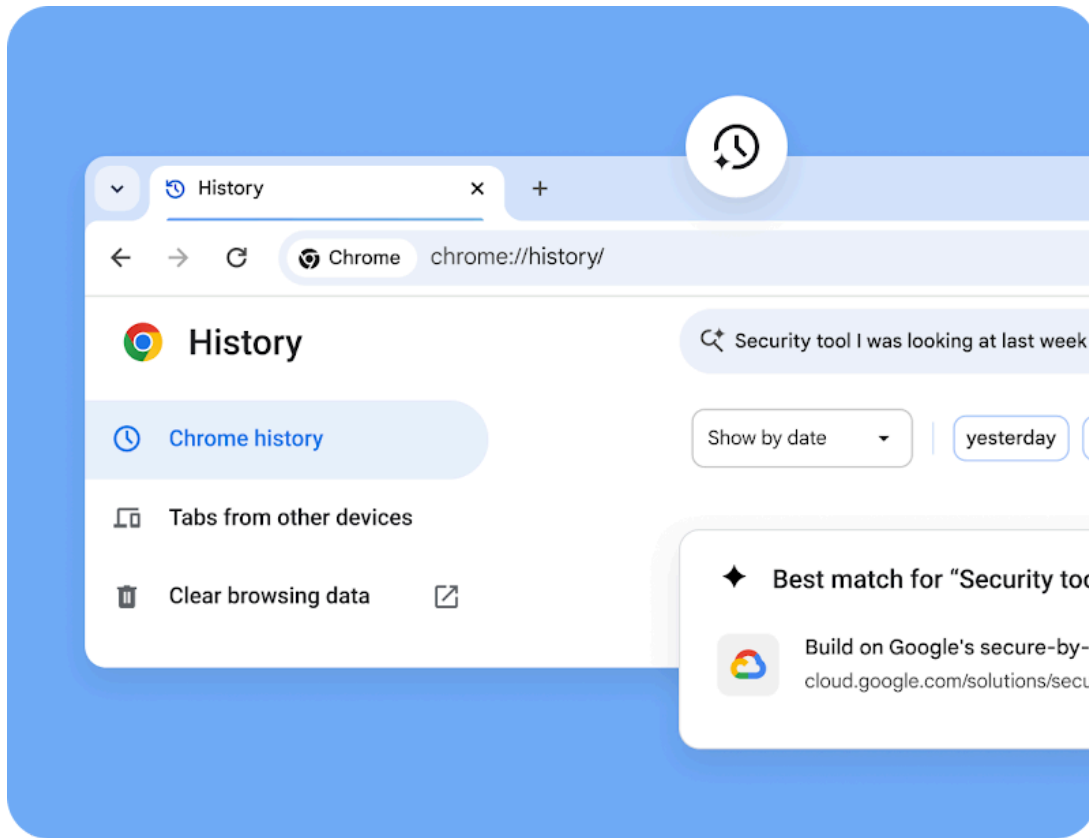

Gemini in Chrome cuts through the complexity of finding and making use of information across tabs and helps people get work done faster. Employees can easily summarize long and complex reports or documents, grab key insights from a video they don't have time to watch, or even brainstorm ideas for a new project with Gemini's help, with enterprise controls.

Access AI-powered enterprise search

Gemini Enterprise enables employees to find and generate information across various internal systems and easily take actions—Chrome Enterprise brings these capabilities right into the browser.
