A great bubble shooter game, I'm enjoying it a lot. I love that there's no ads and saving the baby panda's is adorable. The free boosters that you can get is the icing on the cake. Love how the game plays and was designed. Edit: I was really enjoying the game, but after I reached Lv. 125 all it wants to do is mess with me and give me every color but what I need and it pisses me off and I'm not dealing with it anymore. I've uninstalled the game. I also dropped the star level from 5 ☆ to a 3 ☆.

Contacted the support team. you can't type to the unless you're in landscape mode. because the send buttons are so low on the screen it's under the back/close buttons. also caught a screen shot of the 24 hrs free play pop up but every time I try to send it to support the game restarts. I've tried several times to send it. you need a better support option. still won't get a full 24 hrs of free play. then they act like they don't know their own game. smh it takes 25+ taps to claim or X out of pop-ups before I can even start a level. I can't believe the developers think that's okay.
